*Simply Easier Payments is a third party payment service. By using this service, you are contracting with Simply Easier Payments to handle this transaction. The security & delivery fee is an amount charged by Simply Easier Payments to you for processing your payment and forwarding it to the company to whom you have made the payment. The security & delivery fee is nonrefundable. The full amount of your payment is forwarded to the company you are paying and the transaction is recorded as occurring the moment you complete it. The timely recognition of your payment is one of the primary benefits of using this method of payment as it may help you avoid late payment fees or lapses in service. The security & delivery fee is not a part of the payment you are making, but it is a separate charge made by and for Simply Easier Payments. You may decide to make your payment by some other method and not incur the security & delivery fee.
